Dr. Nafeez FRSA Ahmed is a prolific mainstream-media communicator and State propagandist. He has worked as an advisor to the UK Foreign Office, the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst, the UK Defence Academy, the Metropolitan Police Service on the Home Office's Channel Project, and the UK Government's Parliamentary Select Committee for Communities and Local Government in its Inquiry into the government's 'Preventing Violent Extremism' (PVE) programme.

Dr. AHMED's book, 'ALT REICH', was first published on the 13th January 2025.

I see 'ALT REICH', by Dr. Nafeez AHMED, as consisting mostly of material likely to provoke a significant, extreme, racist hate response against the native (white) people of the UK. And I do so, on the bases of the manner in which Dr. AHMED portrays us, and our native history.

Between 1939 and 1945 many millions of native Europeans gave their lives to confront and destroy an odious, race-supremacist, eliminationist ideology - including almost ½ million native Britons. Notwithstanding, Dr AHMED chooses to characterise members of that native population only in terms of the very same odious ideology that necessitated that terrible sacrifice.

In my opinion, Dr. AHMED's 'ALT REICH' is not a scholarly piece of work but, rather, a political polemic of a highly contestable and objectionable form. It contains numerous examples of the 'lie by omission' intended (it would appear) to bolster a very weak (and very wrong) argument regarding the supposed emergence of a particular threat to societal stability within the UK.

Dr. AHMED uses the term ALT REICH (a crude synonym for 'neo NAZI') to characterize any native British people who oppose (and who maybe protest against) the loss of their inheritance - and ultimately of their homeland - by the implementation of a very real population-replacement ideology.

On the bases of the opinions that Dr AHMED expresses in regard to the Free Speech Union (FSU), staff, members/clients, guests and supporters, I find it difficult not to conclude that Dr AHMED supports a form of epistemic fascism - that what is to be accepted as 'the truth' must be defined top-down by an elite cadre of powerful like-minded people. Any and all 'heretics' are to be ruthlessly silenced by means of crude labelling, by banning from the public domain, and by political 'direct action'. ²

Within 'ALT REICH' Dr. AHMED mischaracterizes (in, I believe, a seriously defamatory way) a number of very prominent, conservative, public figures. ³ I am in no doubt that if (and when?) those persons become aware of this matter, then they will have very good reason to fear for the safety of themselves and their families, and for the safety of their friends and associates.

Dr. AHMED will undoubtedly receive many plaudits from those connected to the UK State establishment, as a result of his book 'ALT RECH' - the irony being that very many working-class English people are currently languishing in prison for having mistakenly mischaracterized the Southport mass-murdering, pro white genocide, terrorist Axel RUDAKUBANA (as a 'Muslim immigrant'). ⁴

Ultimately the question that needs to be asked is this: what were Dr. AHMED's true purposes and intentions in writing this book? How does Dr. AHMED's expect those of immigrant-settler heritage, who read 'ALT REICH', to feel and to react toward the native British people? I find this to be deeply worrying.
