

Bad Actors [3]

By Anthony Shell

Introduction

A thorough examination of the anonymous writings, and the behaviour, of Anders BEHRING BREIVIK, prior to his murderous attacks in Oslo, and on Utøya, on the 22nd July 2011 – and with comparisons to his utterances during his police/psychiatric interviews and his trial, and his ‘letters from prison’ – has provided important insights into the true motives behind BREIVIK’s actions at those places, and at that time. <sup>1</sup>

This research has involved the discovery by the author, and the subsequent detailed examination, of almost 150 (electronic) documents containing apparent communications between Anders BREIVIK and others, in the period between the 1st January 2003 and the 22nd July 2011. This is in addition to the use (in this research) of approximately 500 primary sourced, public-domain documents.

Therefore this research is based upon a detailed examination of the communications and the activities of Anders BREIVIK (and of others) in a 10-year period, between 2003 and 2012. <sup>2</sup>

Investigative Report

Anders BREIVIK opened his agent provocateur / entrapment TheWanderingWhite blogspot.com account in October 2009. However, and with no prior warning or prior explanation, he stopped blogging after a final article on the 1st July 2011 (which was an update of an earlier blog of the 29th May 2011) – i.e. this occurred just 3 weeks before he executed his murderous Oslo/Utøya attacks. <sup>3</sup>

Much of the content of articles by Anders BREIVIK (in his TheWanderingWhite blog) were simply cut-and-pasted from other people’s Internet publications (and often without proper attribution) – to which he then added his own comment. This is very reminiscent of the style he also adopted for his 2011 ‘manifesto’.

In a blog in August 2010 Anders BREIVIK made this observation, on his TheWanderingWhite blog, in regard to Serbia/Kosovo: “It is worth noting, as Srdja Trifkovic has done, that Kosovo independence [from Serbia] threatens Israel’s existence, not only by creating another Islamic state (run by the Kosovo Liberation Army no less), but by creating a precedent for Arab secession from Israel.” <sup>4</sup>

<sup>3</sup> Note: for his ‘blogspot.com’ account, alias TheWanderingWhite submitted 15 posts in 2009, 29 posts in 2010, and just 2 posts in 2011 – whilst his last post on his ‘wordpress.com’ account was submitted on the 1st July 2011 (and referenced by alias Conservative Swede on the 5th July 2011).

<sup>4</sup> Comment inserted by TheWanderingWhite in regard to the article ‘The International Court of Justice, The United Nations, and Clearly BREIVIK's concern (on this matter, in particular) was in regard to the possible dire consequences for Israel – the creation of a separate, sovereign Palestinian State, consisting of Gaza and The West Bank territories. It was a rare mistake by BREIVIK – a reference within his TheWanderingWhite blog not only to his support for Israel, but also his explicit support for (as will be shown later) an extreme Zionist ideology.

However it is an examination of the extensive “useful links”, recommended by BREIVIK on his TheWanderingWhite blog pages, that is therefore especially interesting.<sup>5</sup> Whilst his blog list included numerous links to conservative, counter-jihadist, nationalist individuals and organizations, within Europe and the USA, it also includes links to a large number of US and Israeli backed ‘private’ intelligence gathering and influencer (propaganda) organizations. This is discussed in detail, later within this report.

The content of those “links”, by Anders BREIVIK, within TheWanderingWhite, includes references to the work of the prominent counter-jihadist Bat YE'OR (in regard to the inclusion of dhimmitude.org, and other groups). Bat YE'OR was a Jewish refugee who fled Egypt in 1957 (one year after the Suez Crisis) and settled in Europe. She was the originator of the concepts of both ‘dhimmitude’ and ‘Eurabia’, in the development of her arguments regarding Islamic expansionism. After FJORDMAN and Robert SPENCER, Bat YE'OR was the counter-jihadists most often quoted/cited by BREIVIK within his 2011 ‘manifesto’ (the fourth and fifth most quoted/cited being Daniel PIPES of MEF, and the organization MEMRI, respectively).

As an example of an especially obvious agent provocateur entrapment effort, Anders BREIVIK projected the racist murders (of predominantly black people) by the US-based, anti-Semite, Keith Luke, onto his own (deceitfully bogus) native, English identity (in his TheWanderingWhite blog) – describing Luke as his “hero” who “bravely resisted Third World immigration and the Jewish domination of the United States ...”<sup>6</sup>

He also used that post to eulogize the actions of the serial killer Elias Abuelazam. In that regard, BREIVIK's choice of an exemplary “hero” is very revealing. Elias ABUELAZAM was a Palestinian Christian (and also an Israeli citizen) who had moved to the USA. However – and contrary to the claims made by Anders BREIVIK – no evidence was ever produced to show that any of the murders committed by Elias ABUELAZAM were, in fact, racially motivated.<sup>7</sup> BREIVIK was (yet again) fabricating a false narrative.

The degree of agent provocateur intent, by Anders BREIVIK, is revealed in the body of that post where he agitates “whites” in the USA to commit murder against their “negro oppressors”. Here, at that time, he was very clearly referring to US President Barack OBAMA, and to the actions of OBAMA's Washington DC White House Administration<sup>8</sup> Anders BREIVIK was peddling an especially odious narrative, and was inadvertently revealing his actual, intended, race-baiting purpose. BREIVIK was presenting the notion of white people as being good potential subjects for inculcating (and receptive to) bigoted, racist beliefs.

<sup>8</sup> “Elias Abuelazam, a heroic Greek Orthodox Israeli Arab, has set an example that right-thinking people should follow all over the world. Faced with intractable populations of increasingly dominant, malicious Negroes in nations dominated by state-enforced political correctness, cultural-Marxist lynch-mob justice, and nearly universal lack of state respect for property rights, Whites should take the initiative and resist their Negro oppressors to the fullest extent possible. ... Weapons of mass destruction should not be ruled out: The prospect of a nuclear weapon destroying Washington, DC, ... should delight anyone unwilling to travel the road

From that particular post it is therefore clear that Anders BREIVIK was eager to convey and promote a particular loathing for President OBAMA. This included his extolling “Whites to take the initiative” – and to kill not only the US President, but also all members of his Washington Administration. BREIVIK was determined to conflate such views with conservative social movements within both the USA and Europe.

Whilst falsely portraying himself on his TheWanderingWhite blog as a native Englishman, Anders BREIVIK was very much concerned with presenting his views in terms of being a stereotypical, violent, ‘white supremacist’ (and thereby importing, and exploiting, a highly divisive, US-based, political narrative).

I find it impossible to believe that the security/intelligence agencies of the USA (Washington DC) were not alerted to such public calls (as this) for the murder of the US President (and others) – either via their own highly sophisticated Internet monitoring operations (by, for example, the NSA or the FBI), or from information passed on by members of the public. Therefore the likelihood is that those US Government security/intelligence agencies did know – but for some overriding reasons chose not to initiate any response that would have stopped BREIVIK pursuing his extreme agent provocateur agenda.<sup>9</sup>

In July 2006, Anders BREIVIK wrote (using one of his many aliases) the following: “Today there is a Völkerwanderung of Mexicans into the United States. ... But the main problem is not America as such. The main problem is that America, by putting itself in the imperial position of Western Civilization, has made this paralytic attitude the norm of the West. This hegemonical influence is also why we see Israel today being in paralysis, and unable to set up reasonable war goals.”<sup>10</sup>

Three years later, in late 2009, BREIVIK created his TheWanderingWhite blog. This was just a few weeks after it was announced, in Oslo, in early October 2009, that President OBAMA was to be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize (specifically, in the city of Oslo, two months later, on the 10th December).<sup>11</sup>

In that regard, it is noted that immediately prior to the trial of Anders BREIVIK (in Oslo, in 2012) mainstream UK media were reporting that BREIVIK had told Norwegian police that, in 2009, he made preliminary plans (which he subsequently abandoned) to detonate a bomb outside the venue for the Nobel Prize ceremony, in the center of Oslo (presumably to assassinate President OBAMA).<sup>12 13</sup>

<sup>9</sup> For example (and in reference to Snowden leaks) in regard to such mass surveillance tools as XKEYSCORE et cetera – why was BREIVIK’s comments (as TWW et al) not picked up by the security service – or did, in fact, the security services know of his online activities?

<sup>11</sup> The announcement that President Obama was to receive the Nobel Peace Prize was made by the Nobel Committee, in Oslo, on the 9th October 2009.

The context for this is the preceding 'Oslo riots' in January 2009 – the massive protests against Israeli military incursions into the Palestinian enclave of Gaza, at that time.<sup>14 15</sup> One year later, a writer for the American Thinker and Front Page Magazine (both publications clearly being read by BREIVIK – see later) referred to those pro-Palestinian protests as extremely anti-Semitic, both in intent and in execution.<sup>16</sup>

A prominent part of BREIVIK's agent provocateur strategy therefore included his own use of extremely provocative vitriol in attempts to provoke a similar response from other blog co-commentators.<sup>17</sup> On the 6th March 2011 Anders BREIVIK used his primary blog to opine (by proxy, as a TheWanderingWhite comment) the following: "[Jacob] Schiff probably viewed the Bolsheviks as potential converts to Zionism because there were so many Jews among them. He should have been gassed along with his fellow Marxist German Jews. Thank God Stalin purged the CPSU of the Yid-Bolshevik fanatics."<sup>18</sup>

In that grotesque rant, Anders BREIVIK was attempting to provoke an extremely nasty and perverse 'discussion' – and especially so, in regard to matters concerning the Jewish Holocaust.

At the very least, BREIVIK obviously hoped that his online (social forum) 'followers' would be drawn into commenting on such things. Their communications, in that regard (including their IP addresses and online search histories, as a result), would, of course, become a matter of considerable interest (and record) to the US and Israeli based private intelligence organizations, to which he was steering his 'followers' toward, for that purpose (by having them naively 'clicking' onto the links that he had provided – see later).

I believe that it is highly likely (as a result of the responses to the listed "useful links" on BREIVIK's blog) that the FBI (and intelligence-sharing groups affiliated to the FBI, such as the ADL) will have known, not only of the existence of BREIVIK's TheWanderingWhite entrapment blog, but also of the communications (involving BREIVIK, and others) that were taking place at that time (2009 – 2011), and taking place as a result (in particular) of his rather obvious agent provocateur and entrapment efforts.

However, the response to such material (from Anders BREIVIK) was that of bewilderment and suspicion by other commentators, such as: "I'm sort of puzzled by you in a way. You seem to understand certain things and be wrong on others, from what I can tell." BREIVIK immediately countered that particular comment with a link to TheWanderingWhite (his agent provocateur / entrapment blog), with this invitation to other commentators: "Here is my policy concerning the Jew".

No evidence can be found that such malevolent duplicity by Anders BREIVIK ever worked. Indeed, from inspection of that blog, by this time (i.e. in the first few months of 2011) it appears that BREIVIK was becoming increasingly frustrated that his attempts at provoking extreme racist input (and, particularly, vitriolic anti-Semitism) from other commentators, were not bearing fruit.<sup>19</sup>

However, whilst anonymously pursuing a divisive hate and violence-promoting strategy, BREIVIK was openly posting vehement arguments in Hans RUSTAD's document.no website forum (as 'Anders B') condemning any racist chauvinism by white people (passively or aggressively) – as well as professing his strong objections to what he referred to as racist, European, “ethnocentric”, nationalist ideology.

Clearly Anders BREIVIK was determined not to include those connected to the document.no forum (under the leadership of Hans RUSTAD) in his agent provocateur activities. This is especially revealing.

Those agent provocateur activities included Anders BREIVIK's use of extraordinary elaborate techniques to conceal his actual identity. Such techniques included the adoption of false nationalities (or false countries of residence). Most especially, BREIVIK would often use one alias for his ownership of an Internet blog, to which he posted anti-Semitic and racist comments using a completely different alias (i.e. posing as another person, and frequently responding as that person to his own blogs and comments).

By such means, Anders BREIVIK was obviously able to potentially direct those who posted comments on his TheWanderingWhite blog to other websites (including US and Israeli based intelligence-gathering websites, using IP address and history logging software) – as well as his being able to solicit information from visitors to his blog (such as, for example, their true names and/or personal email contact details).

In this historical context, it is therefore useful to examine the links promoted by Anders BREIVIK to private intelligence-gathering agencies (albeit with no suggestion, of course, that those agencies would have supported, or had any knowledge of, his extremely odious agent provocateur activities).

It is noted that the “useful links”, carried on BREIVIK's TheWanderingWhite blog, also included links to many US and Israeli based, organizations such as: The Middle East Forum (MEF); The Middle East Media Research Institute (MEMRI); The Centre for Security Policy (CSP); The Investigative Project on Terrorism (IPT); The Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS); The International Strategic Studies Association (ISSA); The Jamestown Foundation (TJF); the Axis Information and Analysis organization (AIA); and (most noticeably) persons connected to the Ariel Centre for Policy Research (ACPR).

Visitors to his blog were effectively being invited to ‘click on’ to those “useful links” – an action that could take them (and their IP address, and browsing history) to the home page of each of those organizations.

Many of those individuals and groups listed as “useful links” on that (BREIVIK's) entrapment blog are also to be found cited within the Anders BREIVIK 2011 ‘manifesto’, including: Daniel Pipes (MEF); MEMRI; Frank Gaffney (CSP); Steven Emerson (IPT); and Pajamas Media (Claudia Rosett).<sup>20</sup>

<sup>19</sup> Bizarre inclusion of extreme, bigoted opinion, such as: “There has been something wrong with the West since before all the Pakis, Jews, Leftists, wogs, feminists, poofs, and other moral degenerates appeared.” See: ‘Dr. Revilo P. Oliver on Liberalism and the Plight of Western Man’, by The Wandering White, 26th January 2011, <http://thewanderingwhite.blogspot.com> – downloaded from the Google Way Back Machine archive.

Notably, the Washington-based Investigative Project on Terrorism (IPT, under Steve Emerson) has reportedly also been consulted by, and has provided briefings on international terrorism to, the following organizations: the FBI; the Department of Homeland Security; the US National Security Council; the US Justice Department; the US Congress; and the White House (Washington DC).<sup>21 22</sup>

It appears that Anders Brevik first cited the MEMRI organization (as a source, and a link) in February 2006.<sup>23</sup> He continued to cite MEMRI under his different aliases, and on different Internet forums/blogs, up until July 2011. And in his ‘manifesto’ (distributed on the afternoon of the 22nd July 2011, just prior to his murderous attacks) BREIVIK referred to the MEMRI organization no less than 23 times.<sup>24</sup>

The inclusion, anonymously made by BREIVIK as a “useful link” within his TheWanderingWhite blog, of the Washington-based CSIS organization is also of particular interest. The CSIS is closely connected to the US Military and NATO – and to senior military and intelligence agency leaders within those organizations.<sup>25</sup> The CSIS has advised the US Government on international military and economic policy, and has contributed to the work of organizations such as the US Army War College.<sup>26 27</sup>

Also included within BREIVIK’s “useful links” is the International Strategic Studies Association (ISSA). The ISSA is based within the USA (in Fairfax, Virginia) and appears to be another private, intelligence gathering organization, with close connections to the US and NATO military and intelligence agencies.<sup>28</sup>

In the context of this report it is noted that the ISSA has been a partner member of the Faculty of Security Studies at the University of Belgrade (Serbia). Other partner members include: US Army West Point; Institute for World Politics (Washington DC); Interdisciplinary Center of Herzliya, Tel Aviv (Israel); Center for Peace Studies at the University of Tromsø (Norway); Ministry of Defense of the Republic of Serbia; and the Fund for Open Society (Belgrade).<sup>29</sup> The evidence is that such collaborative initiatives were intent on paving the way to the eventual incorporation of Serbia (and other European nations) into NATO.

There are further, very important observations to be made in regard to the “useful links” Anders BEHRING BREIVIK provided (anonymously, on his TheWanderingWhite blog) to two particular organizations: The Jamestown Foundation (TJF); and Axis Information and Analysis (AIA).

This part of the analysis therefore begins with The Jamestown Foundation (TJF).

The TJF was founded in Washington DC in 1984. Both the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and the US State Department gave official US Government backing to the creation of the TJF. The primary purpose of that organization was (at that time) to serve as an intelligence gathering and propaganda asset for NATO and the USA – with the (then) Soviet Union (USSR) being the primary target.

However, since the fall of the Communist Bloc (1991) the role of the TJF has significantly changed. Whilst still concentrating on the countries of Central/Eastern Europe, the emphasis has now become the use of its intelligence gathering and propaganda abilities to aid the expansion of NATO into that region.

With regard to the subject matter of this report, comment on the TJF will be constrained to its activities directed towards the Baltic, East European countries, and (especially) Russia and Belarus – these being regions that Anders BREIVIK (very obviously) also had a special (and malevolent) interest in.

Which leads us to the second of the two organizations of special interest, recommended as a “useful link” by Anders BREIVIK within his TheWanderingWhite blog – Axis Information and Analysis (AIA).

From examination of primary source information, the AIA was seemingly a highly sophisticated pro-NATO and pro-Israel propaganda operation. Again (as with TJF) its primary targets appear to have been the CIS countries of Belarus (especially), Ukraine and Russia.

In that regard, the AIA published claims that Russia was using Hezbollah as a conduit for export of Russian arms to Africa and the Middle East, and that Belarus operated as a proxy for Russia in the fomenting of regional conflict in countries such as Georgia, Azerbaijan, Romania, Moldova, the Balkan countries, and Israel. The AIA also published claims that Russia and Belarus were supplying the Taliban with weapons, and that Russian intelligence and military agencies were working with Al-Qaeda.

Of particular concern (to the AIA) were the diplomatic, trade and defence agreements that the Belarus Government was (at that time) forging with countries such as Syria, Iran, Lebanon, and Libya.

The AIA began operations in May 2005 (coincidentally, just 2 months after Anders BREIVIK first visited Belarus), and operated under the directorship of a person named as ‘Allister MAUNK’.

All of this, of course, begs the question: why would anyone (such as Anders BREIVIK) present himself, anonymously on Internet blogs, as an extreme ‘white racist’ and anti-Semite, and posting comments on various internet sites calling for acts of terrorism and mass murder against non-white people – whilst also, and at the same time, and on the same blog, providing “useful links” to intelligence-gathering sites such as the IPT, MEMRI, CSIS, ISSA and (in particular) to organization such as TJF and AIA?

As has already been pointed out, it is reasonable to assume that such sites would routinely log the IP addresses of those accessing their sites – and would do so on the basis of the content of the most recent browsing history of those persons (as ‘sentiment analysis’). Given his obvious, known proficiency in Internet-related matters, Anders BREIVIK would obviously have known this.

Also included in BREIVIK's TheWanderingWhite blog was a link to the La Russophobe website. This website has extensively used extreme black-propaganda techniques against the Russian Government (and against Vladimir Putin, especially). Whilst the language has been both infantile and crude, the author(s) appeared well schooled in techniques of Internet-based psychological warfare.

The person purportedly operating the La Russophobe website (Kim ZIGFELD) has been listed by Frontpage Magazine as one of their columnists.<sup>30</sup> In addition, it is seen that Kim ZIGFELD has also been identified as alias Publius Pundit – as a contributor on the Pajamas Media forum, in the role of the Pajamas Media 'Russia correspondent'.<sup>31</sup> On BREIVIK's TheWanderingWhite blog, the link under the name 'The Rosett Report' redirects those clicking on that link to the Pajamas Media website (i.e. to: <http://www.pajamasmedia.com>) – yet another bizarre (but highly significant) connection.

Listed on BREIVIK's TheWanderingWhite blog was also a link to Andrei ILLARIONOV – a link which contained a redirection to the website of The CATO Institute (a private research agency, based in Washington DC, and which has been connected to the CIA). Andrei ILLARIONOV had previously been a top-level adviser to Vladimir PUTIN and the Russian Government. However in circa 2005 he left that role, and became a vehement critic of the Russian Government (and, especially, of President PUTIN). That change of allegiance occurred when PUTIN began taking measures to curtail the wholesale asset stripping of the Russian economy, by an oligarchy of Western-backed global, mega-corporation, 'businesses'.

Andrei ILLARIONOV subsequently became a senior fellow of the CATO Institute. Notably he is also listed as a featured writer within one of the La Russophobe black-propaganda websites.<sup>32</sup>

A further possible (and potentially important) link to Anders BREIVIK – albeit an indirect link, one step removed – is to the Israeli-based organization Ariel Center for Policy Research (ACPR, under the directorship of Arich STAV). The perceived link is via references, by BREIVIK, to the following ACPR members: firstly, within BREIVIK's TheWanderingWhite blog – Matthias KÜNTZEL, Alyssa LAPPIN and Frank GAFFNEY of the CSP; and secondly, within his 'manifesto' – Walid PHARES, Jamie GLAZOV, Elyakim HA'ETZNI, Binyamin NEYANYAHU, and Moshe SHARON.

Indeed, this might well be seen (in the context of Anders BREIVIK's activities, and of his motivation) as a possible connection of the highest significance. This requires further exposition.

Notably, the ACPR was formed in 1997 as a response to the Oslo Peace Accord. It is apparent that the ACPR was created with direct reference to the Israeli politician Ariel SHARON.<sup>33</sup> The impact that the Oslo Accord (circa 1993/1995) had in the creation and operation of the ACPR is reflected in many of the ACPR Policy Papers – for example Paper N<sup>o</sup> 135 (2002) by Elyakim HA'ETZNI: 'There is Life Without a Solution'.

Notably Elyakim HA'ETZNI was also referenced by BREIVIK in his 2011 'manifesto'.<sup>34</sup>

In July 2003 (8 years before the Oslo/Utøya attacks) Anders BREIVIK was a very enthusiastic, prominent, and vociferous part of the FpU (Norwegian Progress Party) campaign that accused members of the AUF (the Norwegian Labour Party Youth Movement) of anti-Semitism, in its attacks on the (then) Israeli Prime Minister, Ariel SHARON.<sup>35 36</sup>

Notably, just five months previously (February 2003), BREIVIK had also posted criticism of the Swedish Foreign Minister Anna LINDH after she proposed that sanctions should be applied against Israel (including an arms embargo) if it refused to withdraw from the Occupied Territories (Gaza and the West Bank).<sup>37</sup>

Anna LINDH was assassinated just a little over 7 months later.<sup>38</sup>

The ACPR clearly saw its role in especially grand terms: "The clash between the West and Islam is a clash between two decadent civilizations. The decadence of the West is manifested in multiculturalism and feminism on the one hand, and moral relativism and the disintegration of the family on the other. ... The West has no cure for the malaise of Islam, for the democratic freedom of which the West boasts lacks the rational constraints as well as moral substance. ... Only the Jews have the answer, but its manifestation awaits the restoration of Hebraic civilization in a New Israel."<sup>39</sup>

This was also, very evidently, Anders BEHRING BREIVIK's very specific, firm position.<sup>40</sup>

On the 19th June 2011 (just 4 weeks before his attacks in Oslo and Utøya) Anders BREIVIK had used his primary blog to respond to the ongoing, extreme, hate-filled polarization between the anti-Israel and the pro-Israel factions within Norway (such as that exhibited in the January 2009 riots, in Oslo), with this observation: "My first impulse was to call this post something relating to 'Lösung der Judenfrage' as a tribute to my house god Theodor Herzl, but in the end I fell for a different title."

Here, Anders BREIVIK was referring to the 1896 book 'Der Judenstaat: Versuch einer Modernen Lösung der Judenfrag' by Theodor HERZLE – the author of the founding Zionist document that was to lead, eventually, to the creation of the State of Israel (in 1948).

It is also seen (and noted) that BREIVIK repeated his reference to, and his definition of, "loyal Jews" within his primary blog (as a comment using his entrapment blog) as well as to his 2011 'manifesto'.<sup>41</sup> He included, in all of his references to that subject, a reference to Winston CHURCHILL's support for Zionism (Israeli/Jewish nationalism) against Marxist/Bolshevik Jewish internationalism. This also needs to be seen in BREIVIK's more general description of "traitors" – those he deemed needed to be assassinated.<sup>42 43</sup>

In terms of the contributions to ACPR by Walid PHARES – one of the most important is Policy Paper N° 78 (1999) titled 'Israel's Alternative Policy in Lebanon'. This examined the desirability and feasibility of Israel supporting the creation of a separate, autonomous Christian enclave in southern Lebanon. BREIVIK evidently had a special interest in events in Lebanon.

However, in his haste, BREIVIK failed to remove from his 2011 'manifesto' a number of persons who were elsewhere listed as authors of ACPR 'policy papers' – these being as follows: Walid PHARES (1999); Binyamin NETANYAHU (1999); and Elvakim HA'ETZNI (2002).<sup>44 45 46</sup>

In 2007 Walid PHARES was appointed as an official adviser to the US House of Representatives Caucus on Counter Terrorism. Previously, for many years (from at least the early 1990s), he had been a prominent and highly regarded figure within the USA and the Middle East in matters concerning national and international conflict and global terrorism.

In 2007 the ACPR writer Arich ELDAD attended the Counter-Jihad conference in Brussels. Evidence, already provided (in the full report) reveals that Anders BREIVIK had also attended that conference. It is therefore conceivable that ELDAD and BREIVIK actually met. However, also given that BREIVIK was almost certainly using an alias, and that his physical appearance was likely to have been significantly different to that of 2011 (he was 4 years younger, and it was prior to his intensive consumption of steroids and assorted stimulants) then it is very possible that Arich ELDAD would not recall that meeting.

Of course there is no suggestion, whatsoever, that Arich ELDAD would have been party to any wrongdoing (violent or otherwise), had any such contacts been made.

One of those who has been listed as an associate and author for the ACPR is Erez URIEL – the Director of the Oslo-based Norsk Israel Senter (the NIS). The primary purpose of the NIS appears to have been to monitor Norwegian people for indications of any anti-Semitic opinion or behaviour. Notably it is also reported that articles by the editor of NIS, Michal Rachel SUISSA, also appeared on the Norwegian website document.no (Hans RUSTAD) – the group (and forum) of which Anders BREIVIK was also an active member. However, no evidence has been found to show that SUISSA and BREIVIK actually met.

In October 2010 Dr. Manfred GERSTENFELD wrote an article for American Thinker magazine titled 'Norway and The Jews'. In that article Dr. GERSTENFELD again revealed not only his interest in the document.no Internet forum (the forum that was then being used by BREIVIK on a regular basis), but he also listed those Norwegian 'elites' being identified as anti-Semites, and hostile to Israel – principally as: King HARALD V; Prime Minister Jens STOLTENBERG; and Foreign Minister Jonas Gahr STØRE.<sup>47 48</sup>

Given that BREIVIK was linking to the American Thinker magazine (and to Front Page Magazine, Edward MAY's Gate of Vienna, and corresponding on Hans RUSTAD's document.no website forum) there can be very little doubt that BREIVIK had, indeed, read that Dr. GERSTENFELD article (and, indeed, many of the other articles written by that particular author, at around that time).

Sometime between the 13th May 2011 and 8th July 2011 Anders BEHRING BREIVIK made considerable changes to the content of the "useful links" listed on his primary blog. It is noted that in previous years he would typically only make 5 to 6 changes per year to that list – however in a mere 3-week period, in the spring of 2011, BREIVIK deleted 14 entries from the list (of 56 links), and added 58 new links.

Additions to his primary blog list included a particular link to his entrapment / agent provocateur TheWanderingWhite blog – together with links to the following: Dansk Folkeparti (The Danish People's Party); Fremskrittspartiet (FRP, The Norwegian Progress Party); The Sverigedemokraterna (Sweden Democrats); the English Defence League (EDL); blogs containing the work of the Norway-based counter-Jihadist Fjordman; and a link to the Russian TV news channel RT.com.

It is an examination of the content of "useful links" on the primary blog of Anders BREIVIK that leads to the crux of this analysis – in regard to BREIVIK's connection to the US-based STRATFOR organization.

In the weeks prior to the Oslo/Utøya atrocity, Anders BREIVIK deleted the specific link on his primary blog to the STRATFOR website pages, dealing with events in the former countries of the Soviet Union (which he had listed as a redirection under 'George Friedman', the founder and Chief Intelligence Officer for STRATFOR) – and replaced it with a simple, direct link to the STRATFOR homepage.

Notably, the STRATFOR organization has been described as: "A company that fronts as an intelligence publisher, but provides confidential intelligence services to large corporations, such as Bhopal's Dow Chemical Co., Lockheed Martin, Northrop Grumman, Raytheon and government agencies, including the US Department of Homeland Security, the US Marines and the US Defence Intelligence Agency."<sup>49</sup>

The context for this is the report that Anders BREIVIK was a subscriber to the STRATFOR organization, and was thereby automatically receiving emailed STRATFOR intelligence reports. Indeed based on the

links to STRATFOR that BREIVIK included on his primary blog the evidence is that he was automatically receiving emailed copies of STRATFOR intelligence-based articles from as early as August 2009.<sup>50</sup>

One of the most important discoveries in this regard is by Wikileaks, of an email communication within STRATFOR, dated the 25th July 2011 (i.e. just 3 days after the Oslo/Utøya massacre), in which there is this urgent request: “Seems that the crazy Oslo shooter was on our freelist and Meredith wants to know if he ever sent in a response or letter to the editor. Can you help us to find out this info? ... This is coming from the executives so if there is anyway we could expedite this request, I would appreciate it.”<sup>51</sup>

Given that Anders BREIVIK was on the STRATFOR email list from August 2009 onwards, he will undoubtedly have seen the February 2010 article ‘The Utility of Assassination’ by George FRIEDMAN.<sup>52</sup>

In that article, George FRIEDMAN appears to advance the following two propositions: (1) that there is no absolute moral argument for a prohibition on political assassinations (FRIEDMAN presents the scenario of the hypothetical killing of a notoriously evil person, such as Adolph HITLER being assassinated in 1938, in support of that position); and (2) the practical problem that such assassinations (against a particular, targeted ‘leader’) would likely be ineffectual, given that a well-run organization, under that ‘leader’, would likely be resilient to such attacks (even with the permanent elimination of that ‘leader’) – that there would most likely be others ready and capable to replace him (or her).

The context for this is seen to be BREIVIK’s reported abandonment of an intention to assassinate US President Barack OBAMA, by means of a bomb attack in Oslo, in December 2009.<sup>53 54</sup> Interestingly, in respect of the first proposition (a retrospective case for the assassination of HITLER, prior to the onset of the Second World War), Anders BREIVIK presented exactly the same argument within both his ‘manifesto’, and in his later testimony to the Oslo court (during his trial).

In respect of the second proposition, it appears BREIVIK believed he was providing (by example) his own ‘solution’, by blowing up the Government Headquarters building in Oslo (to kill, in particular the Prime Minister of Norway, Jens STOLTENBERG), and by shooting dead both the Norwegian Foreign Minister Jonas Gahr STØRE and the former Norwegian Prime Minister Gro Harlem BRUNDTLAND – as well killing as many of the young AUF ‘youth movement’ Party members as possible, who had gathered on the island of Utøya (and who were there, principally to promote the pro-Palestinian Boycott, Disinvestment and Sanctions BDS campaign against Israel), and hence to effectively eliminate the next generation of the likely Norwegian Labour Party leadership.<sup>55 56 57</sup>

As it transpired, Anders BREIVIK's complex planning came unstuck. The Government Building in Oslo did not collapse (as he hoped) and therefore Jens STOLTENBERG (and his staff) will have been able to escape unharmed. Also, BREIVIK had been delayed by several hours due to technical problems emailing his manifesto to a very large number of CC-listed recipients – therefore as a result, one of his main targets for assassination (Gro Harlem BRUNDTLAND) had already left Utøya before his own belated arrival.<sup>58 59</sup> Foreign Minister STØRE had been on Utøya the day before, however (and obviously unbeknownst to BREIVIK) he was at his summer home on Norway's southern coast when the attacks occurred.<sup>60 61 62</sup>

It was only after the Oslo/Utøya atrocity that BREIVIK revealed that, whilst in his planning the primary target (for bombing) had always been the Government Building, his second potential target was to have been the Norwegian Labour Party Headquarters, and that the third target was to have been The Royal Palace (the home of King HARALD V and Queen SONJA of Norway).<sup>63</sup>

So, what of the more general observations?

One of the difficulties that has to be faced by independent researchers (such as myself), into the activities and motivations of Anders BREIVIK and the events at Oslo/Utøya on the 22nd July 2011, has been the strange disappearance (removal) of important information, relating directly to that subject, and known to have previously existed within the public domain. Who had (and is) doing that removal? Some examples are given below.

<sup>57</sup> From leaked Norwegian police interrogation records it is known that Anders BEHRING BREIVIK had four particular targets for assassination: the Norwegian Prime Minister Jens Soltenberg; the Norwegian Foreign Minister Jonas Gahr Støre, the former Norwegian Prime Minister Gro Harlem Brundtland, and the AUF leader Eskil Petersen. However Anders BREIVIK's targeted assassinations were not successful. His car bomb caused only superficial damage to Government Headquarters in Oslo – although eight people tragically lost their lives. The intended target of the bombing, Norwegian Prime Minister Jens Stoltenberg, escaped unharmed. In addition Brundtland had left the island of Utøya before BREIVIK arrived; Pedersen had fled on the island's ferry as soon as the shooting started; and although Foreign Minister Støre had been on Utøya the day before, he was at his summer home on Norway's southern coast when the attacks occurred.

<sup>58</sup> This unforeseen delay in his preparations, and his consequential rush to get to Oslo and Utøya, may well have resulted in Breivik forgetting to take his iPhone with him.

In an interview with Norwegian TV the Foreign Minister stated: "Norway stands ready to recognize a Palestinian state." <sup>63</sup> 'Royal Palace was Breivik's Third Target', newsingenish.no, 19th April 2012

One of the four postings made by Anders BREIVIK, in 2008, on the far-right, US-based Stormfront forum has been found to have had gone mysteriously missing.<sup>64</sup> That post is arguably the most important of BREIVIK's early posts, given that it indisputably showed BREIVIK's efforts – in his post to the 'new member, introduction' thread – to falsely portray himself to others as being Swedish (or, at least, a resident of Sweden). In his posting (as alias year2183) Anders BREIVIK specifically identified himself from that date and onward (in 2008) not as Norwegian, but as a 29-year-old man, living in Sweden.<sup>65 66 67 68</sup>

In other counter-Jihadist online forums (such as Gates of Vienna, Edward May, July 2008) Anders BREIVIK (under his Swedish pseudonym, as used on his primary blog) obviously felt the urgency to make nasty, censorious attacks against anyone who suggested that he was, in fact, Norwegian.

So, what of the strange alterations made to BREIVIK's blogs immediately after the Oslo/Utøya attacks?

Those 'sanitizing' changes, made to BREIVIK's primary and overview blogs, are indicative of these and/or possibilities: (1) a collaboration between 'agencies of State' and BREIVIK; (2) of those agencies acting unilaterally to remove evidence of not only his prior agent provocateur actions, but also of his links to major, globalist (mainly US-based) intelligence and influencer/propaganda/control organizations; or (3) the intervention of a third-part organization (or organizations) to remove their connections to BREIVIK.<sup>69 70</sup>

Then, there is the matter of the strange disappearance of an article by the US-based FrontPage Magazine.

On the 20th July 2011 – just two days before Anders Breivik went on his murderous rampage – an article appeared in the prominent, US-based FrontPage Magazine titled 'The Norwegian Quislings'. That article (by Joseph KLEIN) included the comment that "The infamous Norwegian Vidkun Quisling, who assisted Nazi Germany as it conquered his own country, must be applauding in his grave. In the latest example of Norwegian collaboration with the enemies of the Jews, Norwegian Foreign Minister Jonas Gahr Stoere [sic STØRE] declared during a press conference this week, alongside Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas, that 'Norway believes it is perfectly legitimate for the Palestinian president to turn to the United Nations to seek recognition of an independent Palestinian state.'"<sup>71</sup>

<sup>66</sup> Breivik joined the far-right Stormfront forum in October 2008, using the avatar 'year2183'. Upon joining, he posted an introductory piece beginning with: "I'm 29 years living in Sweden ..." (Breivik was born in February 1979).

<sup>67</sup> The Stormfront post is (arguably) somewhat ambiguous – in that it could also be interpreted as "living in Sweden for 29 years". However, given that the post was undoubtedly from Anders Breivik, this would therefore imply that Breivik was claiming to have lived in Sweden all his life.

<sup>68</sup> The 'disappearance' of that post is seen as very suspicious. That 'profile' post of BREIVIK was available, on-line, some 30 months prior to Oslo/Utøya massacre. However subsequent Google cached copies (made within two weeks after the massacre) did not contain BREIVIK's 'new member, introduction' post. His three other posts made at the time were (then) still available in the Google archive, as cached copies.

<sup>69</sup> Those 'sanitizing' changes made to Breivik's primary blog included: the complete removal of the list of links to other Internet sites (including the link to his entrapment blog); the removal of the more extreme anti-Islam content; the removal of the link to the Gates of Vienna blog/forum (Edward S May/Baron Bodissey); and the links to all previously archived primary blog articles.

It now appears that that FrontPage Magazine article is no longer available to the public. Notably efforts to use the Internet archive facilities (i.e. the WayBack Machine) draw the response: “This URL has been excluded from Wayback Machine”. Why so? This is very strange.

This is seen as especially significant, given that Anders BREIVIK included in his TheWanderingWhite blog links to both FrontPage Magazine and the Canada Free Press. I therefore conclude that BREIVIK was also closely following the work (the political articles and opinion pieces, such as above) of Joseph KLEIN.

There is also the disappearance of an assessment of BREIVIK’s prime motivation, by a very senior member of the US (Washington DC) intelligence community, as outlined as follows.

All records of (and references/citations to) a keynote presentation made to the Swedish Defence College delegation, at the National War College (Washington DC) in October 2013, by Dr. Amy ZALMAN have been removed. In that presentation Dr. ZALMAN made this very significant comment: “Or the case of Anders Breivik, who as you know, was motivated by a complicated ideological cocktail of Islamophobia, anti-feminism and a self-styled version of Zionism, when he murdered 77 people in Oslo several years ago.”<sup>72</sup>

The inclusion of the “as you know” phrase reveals that Anders BREIVIK’s true ideological commitment (to Zionism) was widely known to the top levels of US Government (Washington DC) intelligence agencies.

Both Dr. ZALMAN and her partner Jonathan CLARKE (reportedly a former Senior British Intelligence Officer based in Washington, and also a member of the Washington-based CATO Institute) had, by then, become very senior and influential persons within the top levels of the US military/intelligence/political establishment (and, most especially, within the Washington DC area). Dr. ZALMAN was to subsequently take up the prestigious position of Adjunct Professor of Strategic Foresight, at Georgetown University.

Notably, Dr. ZALMAN had been working for, or in collaboration with, various US Government and international agencies, including: US Congress, US Department of State (under Hilary Clinton); US Office of The Secretary of State; NATO; US Army War College; National Intelligence University (Proteus USA); US Special Operations Command (SOCOM, Tampa, USA); and SAIC (Leidos).

The especially notable circumstances, surrounding the disappearance of that particular 2013 Dr. ZALMAN presentation, is that all references to the existence of her www.strategynarrativeinstitute website, pre 2016, carrying a copy of that particular presentation, have also disappeared. Academic reports, on the Internet, that cite links to that website in regard to (for example) known 2015 content, produce the response: “Safari cannot open the page because network connection was lost” – it no longer exists!<sup>73</sup>

<sup>73</sup> For example, in: ‘Warring Identities: The Impact of The EU’s Strategic Narratives Relating to The CSDP on European Identity Amongst Security Practitioners’, by Katharina Stirland, University of Canterbury, 2019 – ref. Zalman, A. (2011), accessed on 15th March 2015.

All search-engine enquiries in particular in regard to Dr. ZALMAN's (Washington) 2013 presentation produce zero returns – all copies have been removed. It is therefore entirely fortuitous that a full copy of that presentation was downloaded (and securely archived) in circa 2014 (see attached, selected scans).

So, what is to be concluded from all of these discoveries?

On the 22nd July 2011 Anders BREIVIK acted with horrific cruelty in the brutal killing of 77 people. It was an atrocity he executed as a 'false flag' operation, with BREIVIK then (and subsequently) presenting his murderous actions as those of an "ethnocentric" and "militant European" racial (white) nationalist.

The actuality is that, from at least 2006, Anders BREIVIK was covertly accessing (and positively engaging with) the products of State-affiliated, US-based (mostly Washington DC) and Israeli-based political-advocacy and private intelligence organizations. BREIVIK's interest in, and intense support for, an extreme ZIONIST ideology, was built upon those particular early (and ongoing) contacts and engagements.<sup>74</sup>

Anders BREIVIK's pre-planned intention, behind his murderous attacks in Oslo and on the island of Utøya, was therefore an attempt to assassinate the ruling political class of Norway – those who were taking a lead (on the global, international stage) in efforts to create an independent Palestinian State. It was therefore BREIVIK's intention to 'eliminate' those Norwegians who had previously been perceived by those powerful (and highly influential) US/Israeli organizations as posing (in particular) an existential threat to Israel.

BREIVIK used his faked identities and his faked political preferences to conceal his actual interests, beliefs and intentions. That fakery reached its ultimate manifestation in the content of his 2011 'manifesto', his lie-filled testimony in court, and in his various post-trial writings (as published by the Norwegian prison authorities). The purpose being, in those actions, to further conceal the true motive behind his horrific slaughter of so many innocent (and mostly young) people, on that dreadful summer day in Norway.

END

The Quislings of Norway

Posted by Joseph Klein Bio J. on Jul 20th, 2011

Norwegian Foreign Minister Jonas Gahr Stoere

The infamous Norwegian Vidkun Quisling, who assisted Nazi Germany as it conquered his own country, must be applauding in his grave.

In the latest example of Norwegian collaboration with the enemies of the Jews, Norwegian Foreign Minister Jonas Gahr Stoere declared during a press conference this week, alongside Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas, that "Norway believes it is perfectly legitimate for the Palestinian president to turn to the United Nations" to seek recognition of an independent Palestinian state.

Despite Abbas's decision to throw his lot in with the Hamas terrorists as part of some sort of "unity" government, Stoere signed an agreement with Abbas on upgrading Palestinian representation in Norway. Under the agreement, which effectively rewards Abbas for joining forces with Hamas, the Palestinian representative will have the full diplomatic rank of ambassador.

The foreign minister of Norway, which chairs a group of Palestinian donor nations, also used the occasion to hold the tin cup out for Abbas. Foreign Minister Stoere chided those who have decided to hold back on their contributions. "All donors should make an extra effort to support the Palestinians this summer and autumn," he said.

None of this should come as a surprise. Let's not forget, for example, that Foreign Minister Stoere is in charge of the same Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs in which Socialist Ingrid Fiskaa — who said in April 2008 that she sometimes wished the United Nations would send "precision-guided missiles against selected Israeli targets" — so proudly serves as a state secretary.

During the Nazi occupation of Norway, nearly all Jews were either deported to death camps or fled to Sweden and beyond. Today, Norway is effectively under the occupation of anti-Semitic leftists and radical Muslims, and appears willing to help enable the destruction of the Jewish state of Israel.

For example, one of Norway's leading intellectuals, Jostein Gaarder, published an op-ed article in a major Norwegian daily newspaper in 2006 arguing against recognizing the state of Israel in its current form and claiming that Judaism is "an archaic national and warlike religion."

Gaarder equated the Jewish state of Israel's attempts to defend itself against Islamic terrorists with apartheid and ethnic cleansing:

We no longer recognize the State of Israel. We could not recognize the apartheid regime of South Africa, nor did we recognize the Afghani Taliban regime. Then there were many who did not

Note that this article in FrontPage magazine (USA) appeared just 2 days before the Oslo/Utøya attacks. Given Brevik's known Internet browsing preferences, there is a very strong likelihood that he will have seen this article. THIS ARTICLE IS NO LONGER ACCESSIBLE.

Soviet institutions the predominance of Jews is even more astonishing. And the prominent, if not indeed the principal, part in the system of terrorism applied by the Extraordinary Commissions for Combating Counter-Revolution has been taken by Jews, and in some notable cases by Jewesses. The same evil prominence was obtained by Jews in the brief period of terror during which Bela Kun ruled in Hungary. The same phenomenon has been presented in Germany (especially in Bavaria), so far as this madness has been allowed to prey upon the temporary prostration of the German people. Although in all these countries there are many non-Jews every whit as bad as the worst of the Jewish revolutionaries, the part played by the latter in proportion to their numbers in the population is astonishing.

A Home for the Jews.

Zionism offers the third sphere to the political conceptions of the Jewish race. In violent contrast to international communism, it presents to the Jew a national idea of a commanding character. It has fallen to the British Government, as the result of the conquest of Palestine, to have the opportunity and the responsibility of securing for the Jewish race all over the world a home and a centre of national life. The statesmanship and historic sense of Mr. Balfour were prompt to seize this opportunity. Declarations have been made which have irrevocably decided the policy of Great Britain. The fiery energies of Dr. Weissmann, the leader, for practical purposes, of the Zionist project, backed by many of the most prominent British Jews, and supported by the full authority of Lord Allenby, are all directed to achieving the success of this inspiring movement.

Of course, Palestine is far too small to accommodate more than a fraction of the Jewish race, nor do the majority of national Jews wish to go there. But if, as may well happen, there should be created in our own lifetime by the banks of the Jordan a Jewish State under the protection of the British Crown, which might comprise three or four millions of Jews, an event would have occurred in the history of the world which would, from every point of view, be beneficial, and would be especially in harmony with the truest interests of the British Empire.

Zionism has already become a factor in the political convulsions of

The Wandering White: Swiss stand up to Islam 24/06/2014 08:41

That changed in 2006, however, when a Sikh temple, complete with a gleaming white crown, was inaugurated in Langenthal. Karademir appears to have been struck with cupola envy.

"I said to myself: why not us?" he recalled last week, adding that he had applied for a permit to build what would be Switzerland's fifth minaret and permission had been quickly granted.

Encouraged by this, Muslim communities all over the country began applying for permits to put up their own minarets, regardless of the fact that noise regulations prevent the towers from fulfilling their traditional function of calling the faithful to prayer.

People began to worry about minarets dominating the Swiss skyline.

"They felt threatened," said Patrick Freudiger, a Conservative MP who likes to remember a comment by Tayyip Erdogan, the Turkish prime minister, who once described minarets as the "bayonets" of the Muslim faith. "Minarets are symbolic of a quest for political and religious power," Freudiger said.

A similar battle has been raging in Germany over plans to build one of Europe's biggest mosques in the shadow of Cologne cathedral. The Danes are also locked in debate over plans for two grand mosques in Copenhagen.

In an initiative that would please Switzerland's antiminararet campaigners, an Italian town seized the headlines last week by putting up signs banning women from wearing the burqa in public.

"If we ban the minarets, that won't help communication between us," said Thomas Ruefener, the mayor of Langenthal. "And immigration will continue all the same."

Referendum or not, the arguments seem likely to continue. "In Switzerland," said Hisham Maizer, president of the Swiss Federation of Islamic Organisations, "the debate about Islam is only just beginning."

IN THE NOT-TOO-DISTANT FUTURE, WHEN MEXIFORNIA HAS ENGULFED THE UNITED STATES OR A NUCLEAR WAR HAS DESTROYED IT, CANADA AND NEW ZEALAND HAVE BECOME NON-WHITE, AUSTRALIA HAS BECOME PART OF CHINA, AND EURASIA AND RUSSIA HAVE BECOME PART OF THE CALIPHATE, THE WHITE MAN WILL WANDER LIKE THE JEW OF OLD.

Jews: Socialist, Traditional, and Zionist

From Dennis Mangan on 6th May, 2010 (Hat Tip: Conservative Swede):

In our modern era, the evil of Nazi Germany has become the theme for our times, the very representation of man's inhumanity, the unspeakable state to which we must never return and which we must never forget. It's entirely understandable that Jews obsess over the Nazis, and through the Jewish presence in academia, politics, and the

Hello 😊

I'm 29 years living in Sweden. I'm working full time (And will spend the next 12 months) on writing a book about the Islamisation of Europe and how to cope with these upcoming problems. I started this project 10 months ago.

I have an extensive amount of information/documentation/statistics that clearly show that muslims will be a majority in certain European countries within the year 2090-2130, unless something drastically happens. Thats only 82-122 years.

Countries in the imminent danger zone are countries with the most liberal immigration laws which currently are the Scandinavian countries, Finland, Germany, France, GB and a few other Western European countries.

For those with knowledge in European history and the current world scene will know that more or less EVERY current war or conflict in the world are between muslims and non-muslims (Primarily Muslims waging Jihad against Christians or in other forms trying to take control over territory, Islamise directly or indirectly, including their work for implementation of Sharia).

This is the case in: East Timor, Southern Phillipines, Indonesia (Spice Islands), Southern Thailand, Western China (Singiang), Kashmir, Sudan, Nigeria, Tsjetsjenia and the conflicts/wars we see between the Albanians (Or other Balcan muslims) vs. the Serbs, Macedonians and quite possibly within not too long the conflict between the Albanians and Greeks.

My prime concern is the protection of European borders, keeping Islam out of Europe and preventing the third wave from happening through immigration.

NATIONAL STRATEGY IN A MATURING
INFORMATION AGE

What we call the "information environment" increasingly describes the entire geo-strategic environment. There is no distinct informational domain, as there is a domain of land or sea or even cyber. Rather, "information" is the global air we all breathe. If this is the case, what are the implications for developing, and execute strategies and tactics related specifically to information?

Or the case of Anders Breivik, who as you know, was motivated by a complicated ideological cocktail of Islamophobia, anti-feminism and a self-styled version of Zionism, when he murdered 77 people in Oslo several years ago. Feedback loops in networked conditions produce truly unpredictable results—and that is what Breivik was.

Let me be clear. I am not talking about addressing 21st century's most complex issues with information tactics. This is not about papering the complexities of the information age with leaflets, or tweets. It is about beginning to peer into the unfolding logic of our own age to understand better its threats, and exploit far more effectively its many positive opportunities.
